

elite daily

These Hotel Live Streams Will Bring You Closer To Paradise

by MARISA CASCIANO | MARCH 25, 2020

When your wanderlust is put on hold, you may try to stay off of a hotel's website or airline's app. Scrolling through the dreamy packages and pics of luxe pools may make you feel like you're missing out on the world and all its experiences. Don't fret. Those experiences will be waiting for you when it's the right time to chase after your wanderlust again. Until then, these hotel live streams will bring you a little closer to paradise.

While you're lounging on your couch in a pair of sweatpants or chilling with your laptop in between Zoom meetings, these hotels and their live streams will give you a taste of the beach or skyline of a bustling city. If you open another tab in your browser, they'll give you the ability to click back and forth between hefty assignments and relaxing #views. In those moments when you wish you were sticking your toes in the sand instead of watching summer movies or dialing into a conference call, they'll be a sweet reminder that better days are coming.

Not to mention, these hotel live streams may give you some inspo as to where you want to travel when the world is ready for you to do so. Start exploring a virtual version of paradise by simply loading the live streams on your laptop or computer from a countless number of hotels.

[...]

According to Travel + Leisure, other resorts you can check out include: Hotel Del Coronado in Coronado, California; Bahia Resort Hotel in San Diego, California; and Le Barthelemy Hotel & Spa in St. Barths. Each of the streams will soothe your soul, giving you salty waves to listen to, or boats to gaze at while you're sending out emails to clients.

...